Thomas C. Sawyer (chairman of the subcommittee) presiding. Members present: Representatives Sawyer, Wynn, and Petri. Mr. Sawyer. The subcommittee will come to order. We are here this afternoon to discuss the findings from the GAO review of the Bureau's financial operations. This is the first of a three-part effort to examine management and decisionmaking structure. The latter two portions of this effort will continue later on in the year. As far as today's work goes. Congressman Petri and I asked GAO to undertake this work at the beginning of the year. We were concerned that the Bureau might not have as fully developed a system or set of practices as is necessary to manage the diversity of its many important programs. It is not, of course, to call into question the professional competence of those programs themselves or the people or the skills that they bring to the position, but rather trying to manage the myriad operations that are going on at the same time. What really triggered our concern was the recovery of significant unspent funds 2 years in a row. From a distance it is probably true that anyone who was looking at the circumstances could conclude only that the Bureau just didn't have mechanisms in place to know how much money...
